Every School can have a Successful "Olympics" Festival in which All Students can Participate.

It's not whether you win or lose but playing the game that counts

Which is why we, in co-operation with the Canadian Olympic Association, sponsor the Royal Bank Junior Olympics

It provides chances for Canada's youth to develop their athletic skills, achieve an understanding of the true Olympic spirit and most of all, to have fun

All participants in approved Junior Olympics athletic and cultural events receive official crests. Attractive 1st, 2nd and 3rd place ribbons are also awarded to the winners of the finals in each event organized for each age group. Posters are available to publicize the events

Why not organize a Junior Olympics Festival for youngsters in your school? Just contact your nearest Royal Bank branch for more information or write to the Director of Programs, Canadian Olympic Association, 333 River Road, Ottawa, K1L 8B9

In the Olympics success is participating and this way we can all take part in the Olympics

When you succeed...we succeed.

TOURNAMENT HISTORY

The Concordia Invitational Women's Basketball Classic has grown in size and stature since its inception in 1972, as a four-team tourney. Originally called the Loyola Women's Invitational Basketball Tournament, it has continued to gain prestige and has established itself as the outstanding Canadian women's tournament.

Dalhousie won the first invitational, defeating the Waterloo Athenas 61-47 in the final game. The Tigerettes' Joan Selig was named Most Valuable Player and joined teammates Rose Johnston and Helika Hudoffsky on the All-Star team.

Queen's College of New York City breezed through the 1973 tourney, winning their three games by a total of 76 points. Debbie "The Pearl" Mason's 51 points and her ballhandling wizardry won her MVP selection.

1974 was the Year of Laurentian, as Norm Vickery's Vees shocked Queen's 46-41, then made easy work of Winnipeg and Lakehead. Loyola's Liz Silcott was the Tournament's Outstanding Player, netting 63 points, while Winnipeg's Chris Critelli established the tournament's scoring record with 71 points.

Southern Connecticut became the second American champion five years ago, defeating Laurentian 59-54 behind their powerful center and tournament MVP Marnie Dacko. Dacko is now assistant coach for the St. John's Express. Outstanding individual performances were turned in by Nancy Knowlton of St. Mary's, who scored 69 points in two losing efforts, and Kim Hansen, whose 56 point three-game effort placed her on the All-Star team for the second consecutive year, along with Laurentian's Anne Hurley and Kathy Jennings.

The 1976 tourney was perhaps the most competitive and exciting to date with 14 members of the Canadian National teams in action and three of the eight teams competing, later advancing to the Nationals, including the national champion Laurentian Vees. Concordia sparked by the outstanding performances of Liz Silcott, Sylvia Sweeney and Elaine Betchinski upended the Vees 72-67 in a close, exciting final before a SRO crowd.

The following season appeared to be a rematch of 1975 as Southern Connecticut and Laurentian once again locked horns in the final. Only this time Vickery's squad upended the Owls 60-54 behind Critelli and Jan Trombly. However, the most exciting game of the tourney occurred in the semi-finals when Laurentian defeated U.N.B. in double overtime.

Laurentian, behind the M.V.P. performance of Sylvia Sweeney captured their third title in 1978, as they defeated a strong Southern Connecticut team in the finals. Sweeney established a new tournament scoring record with 80 points in three games. Bishop's Debbie Huband, Candy Clarkson of Guelph, Jody Rajucla and Joan Van Ness of Southern Connecticut were named to the All-Star team.

Last year saw the emergence of Bishop's as a Canadian power as they swept past U.N.B., Southern Connecticut and Dalhousie to their first tourney title. Concordia had their best outing since the 1976 tourney as they captured the Consolation championship by edging U.N.B. in overtime. National team member Debbie Huband was selected as the M.V.P. while Anne Lindsay and Carol Rosenthal of Dalhousie, Linda Macpherson and Joann Bourque of Concordia, Clarkson of Guelph and Diane Beauchamp of Southern Connecticut were named to the All-Star squad.

JUNIOR OLYMPICS BASKETBALL CLINIC

The Canadian Olympic Association and the Royal Bank of Canada announced this fall the continuation of the Royal Bank Junior Olympics Clinic Program.

The Junior Olympics Clinic Program is sponsored by the Royal Bank of Canada and administered by the Canadian Olympic Association in co-operation with the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union. The Clinic concept is aimed at providing as much of the youth sector in Canada with an exposure to a variety of Canada's Olympic sport disciplines. Subsequent to this exposure, it is hoped that a significant number of youngsters will become interested in the sport, to the point of continuing their involvement at higher levels.
